

A TOWN HALL SERIES

KNOCK OUT OPIOID ABUSE

Sept. 27, 2017
Rowan College at Gloucester County
6:15 p.m. to 8:15 p.m.

Moderator: Matthew S. Rudd, Dir. Coalitions & Communications, The Southwest Council, Inc.
Welcome: Jennifer Goudy, Program Officer, The Horizon Foundation for New Jersey

Tri-County Knock Out Opioid Abuse Town Hall Panel

Freeholder Jim Jefferson, Welcome to Gloucester

As a Freeholder, Jim oversees the Department of Health and Human Services that includes the Commission for Women, Department of Health, Disability, Mental Health, Medical Examiner and Senior Services, Human Services, Human Relations Commission, Human Services Advisory, and Social Services among others. Jim is currently an Associate Board Member of the Juvenile Panel for the New Jersey State Parole Board where he helps establish State Parole Board policies within the Community Program Unit.

Alyssa Fountain,
Recovery Centers of America

Alyssa Fountain works as a Community Outreach Specialist for Recovery Centers of America, focused primarily on providing education about addiction treatment resources in our backyard and strengthening communities in the South Jersey region. As a young person in long-term recovery, Alyssa understands that the stigma surrounding substance use disorder often prevents families from seeking help, asking questions, and understanding a disease that impacts the entire family. Her advocacy work with NCADD-NJ and the NJ Association of Recovery Residences are strides towards changing the conversation about addiction in NJ.

Sean F. Dalton, Gloucester County Prosecutor

Sean F. Dalton has served as Gloucester County Prosecutor since 2002. Prosecutor Dalton also served as Glassboro and Paulsboro Municipal Prosecutor as well as Gloucester County First Assistant County

Counsel before becoming County Prosecutor. A Glassboro native, he graduated from Glassboro High School and is a member of the GHS Distinguished Hall of Fame. Prosecutor Dalton obtained a Bachelor of Science Degree from James Madison University. In 1987, he graduated from the University Of Bridgeport School Of Law.

Michele Perez, City of Angels

Michele Perez is the CCAR Recovery Coach Trainer and Vice Chairperson at City of Angels. She also serves as Chairperson of the Monroe Township Municipal Alliance.

Michele is the Program Developer and Directing Supervisor of the Gloucester Co. Recovery Coach Program between City of Angels, Inspira Network, Kennedy Health Systems and the Gloucester Co. Pros. Office. She is the 2017 recipient of Caron's Brian H. Early Community Leadership Award for the Greater Philadelphia Region.

Candice Carter, GRASP

Candice Carter is the Coordinator for the Gloucester Regional Addictive Substances Prevention (GRASP) Coalition at the Southwest Council Inc. Candice has an extensive background in prevention education through her experience as a Prevention Specialist at a domestic violence and sexual assault nonprofit agency. Candice is passionate about taking the steps necessary to keep GRASP at the forefront of prevention services in Gloucester Co. In accordance with this, she currently is working on becoming a Certified Prevention Specialist.

William J. Lynch Jr., RPh

William J. Lynch Jr., BS-Pharm, RPh, received his pharmacy degree from Rutgers University and is a practicing clinical staff pharmacist with Kennedy University Hospital (KUH) and adjunct faculty with the Rowan School of Osteopathic Medicine (RSOM), Department of Emergency Medicine. His pharmacy background includes more than 30 years of clinical practice at KUH/RSOM and as a clinical preceptor for Rutgers University, Ernest Mario School of Pharmacy. He is a member of the Camden County New Jersey Addiction Awareness Task Force (CCAATF).

Collaborating Organizations:

#KnockOutOpioidAbuse